

“I am a General Practitioner originally from Austria who has called New Zealand home for the past 15 years. I have a background in pediatrics and have also completed training in urgent care, which has given me a broad and adaptable clinical skill set. I enjoy caring for patients of all ages and am committed to providing thoughtful, patient-centered care to individuals and families”